

Hem Rahul Viramgama

Hem,

You have shown yourself to be extremely hard-working and perseverant. This was evident from the very beginning, especially in how resolutely you worked in lifting your fingerprint and finally getting a clear print—exceptional! You are also meticulous about taking notes and organising your observations, and this habit will serve you well, both in your academics and otherwise. While you are sincere about your learning, you also have the ability to sit back, relax and laugh. You have some wonderful insights to share and will surely make an effective leader, so don't hesitate to take on leadership roles as you work with groups going forward. All the very best—you are sure to excel at anything you put your mind to!
